Ol' With F. M. L. 100

Milam County wildlife is making news these fall days as wolves, rattlers and racoons collide with countians.

F. W. Vogelsang reports that a pair of wolves in the Marlow Community have turned into killers. Last Friday night they destroyed 33 turkeys on the Vogelsang Turkey Ranch.

And reports indicate they attacked other fowl and domestic animals on nearby farms.

Comes another report on coons from Cameron coon-hunting enthusiast Dr. Joe Parker. But he and his young companions got more than coons on one recent hunt.

The picture below tells the story, after it was over. In early October Dr. Parker and two youngsters, Stanley Summers and Jimmie Peed, hunted down five coons with six of Parker's best coon dogs.

On the way home, one of the lads spotted the five-foot rattler pictured below. Young Summers, a crack shot, drilled the snake.

The coon hunt was unusually successful, Dr. Parker says, since they brought down one 19-pound coon, considered a "big 'un" by most coon hunters.

"HAVE AT IT": There's a basket ball season coming up in another week or so. Traditionally a football town, Cameron could also enjoy seeing their YHS team do well on the hardwood.

Cameron will have a fulltime basketball coach for the third season. We hope that our fine support of Yoe High School athletics can build into bigger crowds through the winter months at homegames of the basketball Yoemen.

Basketball is not a contact sport, but it takes a pretty good eye and top conditioning to make a basketball player.

100 - 100 - 100

What with plans for building a baseball park that will accomodate high school hardball as well as Little League and Babe Ruth teams, Cameron can forsee a strong year-round program of athletics, in school and summer vacation.

This is significant for future growth of this Milam County seat. We can look forward to greater interest of our youngsters in year-round play through the late teens.

A wider recreation program tends to interest kids and adults alike in a town's future. And industry is definitely interested in community-wide recreation programs.

Bible Translator Speaks At Rotary

Dr. Kyle M. Yates, professor of Bible at Baylor University, discussed his work in translating part of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible in a talk before Cameron Rotarians Wednesday.

The tall, graying scholar traced the derivation of Biblical translations of the Bible down to the latest RSV work, first published in 1952.

He was one of eight scholars of the Hebrew language asked to translate the Old Testament of the Bible from the original Hebrew into 20th Century English.

He told Rotarians, in a narrative reticent to complement his own work, of the elaborate conference and study sessions that continued for 12 years before the RSV Bible was put into print.

About 20 men, he said, gathered in conferences in New Haven, Conn. and New York City over a period of years from 1938 to 1952 to complete the work.

And he listed the finished manuscript as one of the great Bible translations of history in the tradition of the King James Version, the John Wycliffe and Coverdale and Tyndale versions of recent English history.

"Each scholar," he said, "was assigned 10 chapters of the Old or New Testament, whichever was his language specialty. Then each of us labored over the 10 chapters for a precise and intelligible translation from the original text, either Hebrew or Greek."

Each man in turn sent copies of his 10-chapter translation to the other Greek or Hebrew scholar who read it over and noted his opinion for the original translator's consideration.

The group of scholars represented most of the protestant faiths, he said, and numbered as many as 31 men at times.

"We tried to be absolutely accurate in translation for meaning and clarity," he emphasized, "tried to put the translation in intelligible language and tried to avoid the influence of personal doctrines.

He cited controversies which arose following the RSV publication and said the original text did not mention, for instance, Joseph's coat of many colors. He said it mentioned coat of distinctive sleeves but no color reference was made.

He was introduced by C. L. Jackett, program chairman. Dr. Yates recently preached at a revival service at Cameron's First Baptist Church.

SW Bell Sets Open House Dates

Carson said, "There will be many attractions, and we have brought in an exhibit to amaze and amuse the public."

M-P Line, Boring Settle Civil Suit Before Hearing

A $5,000 damage suit against Missouri - Pacific Railroad was settled for $1,000 before it went to a Milam District jury Monday.

E. L. Boring, Rockdale liquor shop dealer, had filed for recovery of damages suffered April 24, 1957 when water overflowed into his liquor shop.

He alleged that water got on the liquor bottles, washing the lables and causing the merchandise to be unsellable by federal law.

He also asked for damages for the loss of 20,000 minnows from troughs outside his Rockdale building and damage to the building itself.

Boring's petition charged that Missouri-Pacific failed to enlarge water structures to accomodate the flow of water along their railroad right - of - way and allowed weeds and grass to grow up and clog existing waterways.

An amended petition in the civil action had been filed November 2.

Boring alleged that water upto two feet in depth overflowed into his building.

Jurors called for the case were: Joe Tomerline, R. O. Currey, F. P. Cotton, F. E. Jackson, Arthur S. Pederson, Ray Miller, Burford Offield, V. J. Hannon, Charlie Burke, Ladis Marek, Jr., Karl Hanke and Sam Brewer.

Cameron Pythians Hear Superintendent Of Fraternal Home

About 50 Cameron Knights of Pythias, their wives and guests Monday night heard Hugo Horstmann, superintendent of the Texas Pythian Home, present a talk on activities at the Weatherford institution.

Presented also were about 10 youngsters from the Pythian home who entertained with a number of songs and variety numbers.

In a review of activities of the Pythian Home. Horstmann showed color slides of the 84 youngsters in a stirring talk on their accomplishments and daily lives.

Horstmann was born and raised near Buckholts and has headed the nationally - known Pythian home as Supt. for 18 years.

Members of the Cameron fraternal order and their wives enjoyed a buffet dinner prior to the program.

Horstmann said the Weatherford home had 473 calls for help with orphans last year and hosted 6,000 guests or visitors during the year.

The home has its own dairy herd, dairy facilities, and produces about 40 percent of its own foodstuffs, Horstmann said.

He showed pictures of part of the crowd of 526 Texans who visited the home during a recent open house.

Yoe FHA Attends District Meeting In Fairfield

"This is no ordinary day for American youth since they must make every minute of every day count if America is to beat Russia in this race for greater knowledge", Miss Helen Poe, famous lecturer and world traveler told the FHA girls in Fairfield at the District II, Area VIII FHA meeting, Saturday, November 7.

Yoe FHA Chapter received the corsage for having the largest representation present with 27 FHA members, 1 mother, and 1 adviser. Joyce Fuchs was elected District II, Area VIII parliamentarian for next year. Cathy Mikula sang in the quartet for the devotional and she and Teena White represented Yoe Chapter in the District Chorus. Dorothy Solomon appeared in the skit depicting chapter project activities. Pat Wilkinson served as the Yoe Chapter Voting Delegate in the house of delegates assembly.

Miss Poe spent several months in Russia with an American travel group on an educational tour last summer. She pointed out to the FHA girls that Russia does not have school competitive games as we have in America, but that the youth do have pep rallies and that they do have a slogan for their rallies: "Beat U. S. A.!"

Observing a sixteen year girl digging ditches in the rain and mud, Miss Poe asked her guide why such a young girl was doing such heavy work and he told her very matter - of - factly, "She failed in her school work so she can no longer go to school and waste time; she must do something that is needed and that she can do."

MILBURN A. "Catfish" SMITH

Smith Captivates QB Club Crowd

Baylor's "Catfish" Smith Monday night captivated an audience of Cameron Quarterbacks and their wives in a talk at the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Smith outlined a strong case on the value of athletics for both participants and spectators.

"Athletics are a fine emotional outlet for people and a discipline builder for athletes," Smith told his rapt audience.

Introduced by Bob Nelson, former Baylor grid star and professional, Smith coaxed his audience with a line of whimsical humor before urging their interest in athletics as an important phase of individual and community life.

Baylor Fresh Coach

Smith is now freshman coach at Baylor and was named Southwest Coach of the Year in 1953. He has scored successes as football coach at Longview, Carey and Mt. Vernon high schools and at East Texas State.

He kidded Coach Jim Speer, a Baylor graduate and football player, with a story about the quarterback who asked his coach what to do during a tough game.

Said Smith: "Make up your own mind, son. After all, you have a full four-year scholarship and I only have a one-year contract."

Smith said that athletics keep boys busy and keep them from idling away time into trouble.

"They will be better prepared to meet the future because on the football field they learned to think for themselves and not run to mama for advice," Smith said.

He said that parents should teach their children they need help in leading a good life. He cited the bend in natural streams, bent, he said, because they take the easiest path and go around the hard spots.

Coaching Problems

On the foibles of coaching, Smith said: "Coaches are not out for their health because they could stick a rate book in their pocket and make a better living selling insurance."

In reference to Cameron's 1-8 season, Smith said he once had a team so poor that they looked bad coming out of the dressing room.

Quarterbacks introduced their wives prior to the talk and a coffee followed Smith's speech. Coach Jerry Hopkins reported on Hearne, Yoe High School's final 1959 opponent here Friday night.

The Quarterbacks will hold a final regular meeting Monday night and the annual Football Banquet Tuesday night at First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

County Agent

A new and improved "Community Improvement Program" has just been announced by Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist. The program has been expanded to include all of Texas.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Electric Utility Companies operating in Texas, as sponsors of the contest. Prizes amounting to $6,800 per year will be equally distributed in each of the Extension districts. They will consist of eight awards varying from $100 for the first place to $25 for eight place winners.

In addition to the district awards there will be $500, $400 and $300 awards to the communities judged first, second and third in the entire state.

Enrollment cards are available must be filled out be communities desiring to enter the contest.

Making a community a better place to live is one of the most lasting contributions a citizen can invest in.

COMMUNITY PASTURE AND RANGE PROGRAM

This is a separate program from the Community Improvement Program and is sponsored by the Texas Plant Food Educational Society. They are offering six cash awards to winners in each district. Prizes range from $100 first through $50 for sixth place winners. This would be a good program to include in our county range work. Enrollment cards are available at the county Extension office.

Communities may enter both the Community Improvement and the and the pasture and range program deadline for entering either contest is Dec. 31, 1959. Further information concerning these programs is available at the county Extension office.

Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist and chairman of the short course, urges the attendance of plant pest control operators, nurserymen and others interested in plant diseases and their control.

Smith says that identification and control of cotton, vegetable and ornamental diseases are to be emphasized. A special night session will be devoted to exhibits, demonstrations and an identification and disease clinic. During the clinic, plant pathologists on the staff of Texas A & M College will identify plant disease specimens brought in by those attending the short course.

Registration starts at 7:00 a. m. Monday morning, November 23, on the second floor lobby of the Memorial Student Center. The short course begins at 8:30 with the opening address by Dr. G. M. Watkins, Dean of the School of Agriculture.

Farm Questionnaires Mailed To Farmers

Questionnaires for the 1960 Census of Agriculture are now in the mail and will be in the hands of local farmers within a few days, it was announced today by Field Director James. W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from Chicago, Illinois with the distribution timed so that the report forms will reach farmers about a week ahead of the date when census takers will begin the field canvass. The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census takers to pick up. This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the census taken when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt. On the average each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no".

Carriers To Bring Stock Survey Cards To Rural Patrons

Postmaster John R. Hayes announced today that rural carriers will begin distributing Livestock Survey cards November 19.

Patrons receiving livestock cards are requested to complete and return them to their mail box. Cards will then be returned to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. Information from this survey is used in estimating numbers of cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens on Texas farms and ranches.

Many farmers and ranchers are glad to take a few minutes time to answer the questions asked on livestock numbers in order to have ailable for making business decisions. Information obtained from this survey is returned to farmers and ranchers through Texas Crop and Livestock reporting service releases, newspapers, radio and television.

This annual survey has been a joint undertaking of the Post Office and the Department of Agriculture since 1924, Hays said.

County Agent Warns Against Prussic Acid After Frost

Johnsongrass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns County Agent W. S. Thompson

Certain chemical changes sometimes occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid or hydrocyanic acid when wilted by frost or drouth.

Thompsons warns that the poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten.

Symtoms of this type of poisoning are an appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing and difficulty in standing.

Wheather a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Treatments involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.

Thompson cautions against grazing frosted johnsongrass or sorghum before it is completely dry. If johnsongrass or sorghum is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost, if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

Successful Irrigation Takes Much Planning

COLLEGE STATION Soil moisture is plentiful over most of Texas at the present. However, this is no guarantee that sufficient moisture will be available for maximum crop production next summer. Many farmers, remembering recent drouth periods, may be considering irrigation as a means of providing a continuous supply of available moisture for their crops

Irrigation is not a magic process which assures increased production and income, emphasizes Wayne Keese, extension agricultural engineer. Careful planning and consideration of all factors involved is essential if irrigation is to be successful. Now is a good time to start making those plans. Don't wait until the crop is wilted to plan your irrigation system, the engineer advises.

The first step in planning any irrigation system is to determine if an adequate supply of water is available. Quality of water is also very important. Water quality can be determined only by making a chemical analysis.

Soil characteristics are also very important, a deep, fertile well drained soil is desirable. Increased yields are necessary to pay the extra costs of irrigation and it may be uneconomical if soil characterisitcs exist which would hinder crop production.

Other factors which must be considered include the type of crops to be grown, selection of method of irrigation which best fits your conditions and selection of irrigation equipment.

Your local county agent has a bulletin entitled "Thinking of Irrigation, Keese said. See him for factors which should be considered in planning for successful irrigation, eese said. See him for a copy and for advice about individual problems. The SCS technician in your area can also provide technical assistance in designing your irrigation system.

Texas Will Have Nearly Half Of 1960 Acreage

COLLEGE STATION — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed a national marketing quota of 13,133,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop.

Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The Secretary also announced his determination that alternate - Choice (B) -- farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 percent larger than the "regular" Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.

An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 66,590 bales with a 64,776 acre allotment.

December 15 was set as the date for a growers' refrendum on marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cotton. At least two - thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.

If the quotas are approved, Choice (A) will include "regular" farm allotments with price support at not less than 75 percent of parity available to growers who comply with their regular allotments. Choice B) includes 40 - percent larger farm allotments and price support to growers who comply with their Choice B) allotments at 15 percent of parity less than under Choice A). Individual farm allotments under both Choice (A) and Choice (B) will be made available to producers prior to the referendum.

Benson added that if marketing quotas are not approved for the upland cotton crop, only the "regular Choice (A) allotment program will be in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 percent of parity, as provided by law. If quotas are turned down by extra long staple producers, support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Better Days For Hog Producers

Better days may be ahead for hog producers. Farrowing intentions for December 1959 - February 1960 are down four percent from last year in the 10 Corn Belt States. If intentions are followed this will be the first reduction in two years and may stimulate a price increase, says John G. McHaney, extension agricultural economist.

Federal Milk Marketing

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

ERASTUS "DEAF" SMITH

Scout, Soldier and Hero of San Jacinto

In 1821 people did not usually come to the untamed Texas Territory for their health. But one man did just that — Erastus Smith, from New York by way of Natchez. He wandered over the wild frontier country, learned its topography, made friends with Anglos, Mexicans and Indians. He grew strong and well, but never regained his hearing. When Texans began their fight for independence from Mexico, "Deaf" Smith — scout and soldier — took his place with Fannin, Bowie, Travis, Milam, Sam Houston and the other champions of freedom. His best known service to his chosen country was the destruction of Vince's Bridge, just before the battle of San Jacinto. Bridging Vince's Bayou, then in flood, it offered the only means of communication between the Texan and Mexican armies and the remainder of Texas. When Deaf Smith destroyed it, on the morning of April 21, 1836, he effectively isolated the Mexicans from reinforcements and prevented an orderly retreat. The fact that it also isolated the Texans was of no importance to Smith. He and his people would win. They were fighting for liberty and the right to live as they chose.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland — "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Community In Concert

With two weeks of hindsight between Cameron and Senator Lyndon Johnson's whirlwind visit for the Armory dedication, we can see the substantial value of organization.

Johnson himself told Chamber officials that he was impressed by the dedication crowd, the airport reception, the planning . . . in short, the whole close-knit program.

His statement was justified by his apparent enthusiasm on the podium, where he fired up on the woes of the Administration and scorched the fire-proof Armory with oratory. He devoted considerably more than his planned one hour and five minutes to Cameron, though a civic group in Bryan was awaiting his arrival.

Laurals are in order for Cameron and the multiples of groups that made the dedication a success. One can cite the Cameron Chamber, the National Guard's Company C, Cameron schools, and many individuals who added their enthusiasm and support.

It is fitting that Cameron turn out with a large crowd for the dedication. That showing proved the interest in things public is there.

But again, it showed that Cameron does a grand job on community projects when the need arises. The National Guard Armory story, an excellent study in community public relations, became another feather in Cameron's cap.

A Baseball Park . . .

We see another project coming up on the horizon... that of the Little League Baseball Park.

Endorsed last week by Cameron Rotarians, the program will need $2,000 to build the stadium and further equip the players.

City workmen are clearing the old Milam Institute area and will grade it for proper level and drainage in the near future.

The way Little League officials explain the project, it will meet the needs for a growing summer baseball program and provide a field for Yoe High School baseball games at the same time.

The program shows some yeoman community work done on it already and presents qualifications that deserve Cameron's support.

Wave Of Honesty May Dry Up 90 Per Cent Of Political Speeches

Dear editar:

As I understand it, a wave of honesty is sweeping the television industry, for reasons everybody knows, and the thing may get out of hand.

For example, some people are demanding that politicans write their own speeches, and while it would be interesting to see what some of them would say, it'd be interesting only once. The second time up, nobody'd listen. Ninety per cent of the speeches would be eliminated.

Going even further, some people are demanding that television comedians write their own jokes. It's hard to see how some of their jokes could get any worse, but left on their own, they probable could swing it. This might be good for honesty, but it'd be hard on entertainment.

Honesty is a fine commodity, but you've got to understand the use of it if you intend to hold your audience, your neighbors, your friends, your wife, etc.

On the other hand, if every politician was required to write his own speeches, the speeches might not be as good, but they'd be scarcer. This thing needs exploring further.

At the same time, the world needs a little more self - reliance. It always has embarrassed me a little to see some big-shot arrive from an important trip to a foreign conference and step out of his airplane and, before a vast television audience of millions, pull out a sheet of paper, put on his glasses, and read: "I'm awfully glad to be back home. Thank you very much." When a man can't trust himself to say he's glad to be back, without a script, he ain't inspiring much trust generally.

There ain't enough leaders in the world who know what they think until they've had a staff conference to tell them. The symbol of leadership, where it used to be the mighty oak, now seems to be the common hedge, rows and rows of it, neatly trimmed and watered.

I don't know the solution to this problem. Don't be looking at me. My banker yesterday asked me how I was going this year and I cleared my throat and said I don't know yet. Maybe a scrawny hedge anybody can see through is better than no landscaping at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Trinity Project Poses Problem

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Typical of the tangle of interests and viewpoints that confront Texans when they set out to "solve the water problem" is the current hassle over Trinity River water.

Trinity development poses special problems. This second largest river in Texas (in volume of water has a 455 - mile channel that meanders through or near three major population centers -- Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. All are directly concerned, not to mention the smaller cities along the way.

In the current hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers, Houston and the Trinity River Authority jointly seek permits to build two dams, both near Houston. One would be a reservoir at Livingston; the other, a salt water barrier at Wallisville.

At first, Houston alone sought the permits with stiff opposition from TRA. Then the two agencies compromised and agreed that both would build the dams with Houston footing 70 per cent of the bill and getting 70 per cent of the water.

But before the plan could be opproved, objections came fom all sides. These now are being heard before the Water Board.

San Jacinto River Authority, which supplies part of Houston's water, contends the city should stick with the San Jacinto. North Texas Municipal District and the Municipal Service Company are worried about their own future water supply from the Trinity.

Southern Canal Company, which long has sought irrigation rights downstream, is opposed to the plan as are various landowners whose property would be flooded by the new reservoir.

Testimony is complex, often heated and expected to be quite lengthy.

Some of the data presented on future water needs provides a glimpse of the possible Texas of tomorrow. An engineer, appearing for Houston, predicted the none-county area around that city will have a population of 6,759,000 by the year 2010 -- more people than the whole state had in 1949. Water needs will be a staggering 2, 632, 000,000 gallons a day, he said.

Uranium Promotion Studied

House Investigating Committee has been looking into the money-raising methods of a man who claims to have a device to upgrade uranium ore.

John Milton Addison faces charges in state and federal courts of using illegal financing methods. He has puportedly borrowed $1,000-000 at 10 per cent interest in unsecured loans.

But lenders appearing before the House committee said they had faith in Addison and felt he had been "persecuted" by law enforcement officers.

Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock heads the investigating panel. Other members are Reps. Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Tom James of Dallas, Carl Conley of Raymondville and John Allen of Longview.

Court To Move

Texas Supreme Court holds its last session in the 71 - year - old State Capitol building this week.

But it may be a month before the high court gets all its records and huge library moved and gets settled into the splendid new quarters in the just completed Courts Building.

On Nov. 18, however, the judges are to sit at the new marble bench. Furthermore, they will add a new tradition to Texas judicial history by wearing black robes.

Court of Criminal Appeals and Third Court of Civil Appeals are to move into the new building at a latter date.

Union May Be Sued

State Supreme Court has ruled that a labor union may be sued for damages by one of its members.

It reversed the holding of a lower court that the union could not be held responsible. This clears the way for a plumber to seek $19,039 in damages.

H. J. Borden, the plumber, charges that an agent for the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry barred him from work.

Great Year For Quail

By Vern Sanford

This is a great quail year.

Never in the memory of living man has there been one quite so good. Every section of the state reports quail in great numbers.

Highways are lined with coveys of the birds. It is hard to drive a few miles in rural areas without hitting a bird with the car or having to slow down for a Grain fields and brush piles seem to explode when a covey takes to flight.

Bobwhites and blues are mixing groups in many spots in West and Southwest Texas. There are blues in areas which have been mostly bob habitat for years, and there are bobs flying around in some of the territory where once only blues were plentiful.

It's a great year for the birds! The man with a dog will have his "cup running over." The man who kicks out his birds and takes them as he finds them should do well too.

What is the cause for this tremendous increase in the quail population?

A number of good reasons can be advanced, but it is not likely that any one reason is the complete answer.

Perhaps as important as anything else is the fact that there have been at least two years when weather conditions were favorable at nesting time. This always means a great deal to feathered wildlife, especially ground nesters.

Perhaps the next most important factor is landowner assistance.

One of the heaviest blows to the quail population in the past has been the complete removal of cover and feed crops for the birds.

Landowners cleaned out their fence rows. They chained down mesquite thickets. They set fire to brush patches. They plowed under good range. As a result, there were comparatively few places remaining for the bobs and the blues.

It was about that time that the Game and Fish Commission started its quail restocking program with birds raised by the state. These birds were produced by the thousands at the State Game Farm near Tyler. They were sold to landowners at about half the price of production.

This alone, however, wasn't the secret of the success of the quail comeback.

Before a landowner could buy these birds from the state he had to show that he had sufficient food and cover for them. Many ranchers, whose places had almost been denuded of worthwhile cover, were induced to plant multiflora roses along fence lines, in corners and in other places.

They were encouraged to leave brush at places within their fence lines and to plant feed which would be conducive to good quail nourishment.

Sportsmen clubs throughout the state joined in this movement. Some conscientious shooters also helped.

There are a number of quail hunters in Texas who, each year, re-stock a range with as many pen-raised birds as they take off by gun each fall.

According to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, it requires in excess of 6,000,000 quail each year for the hunters. The quail season, which basically is December 1 to Janurary 16, is hunted hard in some areas.

There was a time when shooters would take every bird in a covey. Now they are leaving a few for seed.

There is a factor, however, which works strongly against this wonderful little bird. It is hard hit in the winter by bad weather and predators.

Biologists who have spent years studying the ways and means of quail will tell you that the spring breeding season is entered with only 20 per cent of the quail available at the beginning of the harvest.

In other words, 80 per cent of every year's average quail crop is gone by the beginning of a new breeding season. Only a small portion of them are taken by gunners.

Some just plain starve. This was the case in some of the areas south of Wichita Falls last year.

That is ideal quail country. There is a great deal of feed, including much small grain. Naturally, this also is an inducement to rats. Last year the rat population vitally affected the quail population. By mid December the quail had quit taking them and thousands of birds died of starvation.

There was a strong rat infestation in other parts of the state, too. This year the rat crop hasn't been quite so bad. But there still are many predators.

One of the worst is the common house cat. It kills off thousands of quail each year. Some hunters shoot every house cat they see afield, for this reason.

Shooting resorts also have had something to do with the increase in quail-shooting interest.

At first the shooting resorts had little acceptance among old-time shooters. However, many fellows found they could go to shooting ing resorts at a cost that would not exceed the total cost of quail hunting elsewhere. This would include the price of the lease, the dogs and the uncertainty.

Resort owners have released many birds. Some are not killed by the hunters. They find their way into other areas .... and the total population of birds goes up.

So, there are many reasons why this is the quail hunting year for you. Get out and get your share!

The Yoemen found the winning combination at Rogers to take the game 13-8. This was the first win of the season for the Yoemen and they will be out in force to close the season with a win over Hearne tomorrow night.

Last year Cameron stopped the Hearne team 57 --- 6. Hearne will be out to gain revenge for this loss. In district they also picked up their first and only win over Rogers. Belton and Rosebud won over Hearne as they did over Cameron. This will be a well matched game at Yoe field.

Football season's almost at an end and will be completely finished after tomorrow night's game.

Following the gridiron sport, Friday, will be preparations for the coming basketball year with new coach, Jerry Hopkins. Serving as assistant football coach the past season, it will be his first season with the Cameron roundballers.

Last year the Yoemen had a so-so season with one of Central Texas's finer young coaches at their reins in Bill Kruger. Kruger was lost to San Marcos High School.

A number of letterman were lost. Turner Newton, Rodney Folschinsky, Allen Dodson, and Eddie Williams headed the list.

The only returning senior letterman from last year is Dwyane Juergens, even though a number of other seniors have mentioned plans of entering the sport for the first time.

Bobby Griswold, Jimmy McClaren, Chris Gay, Carol Fikes, Jimmy Woodum, and Chester Simons are a few that will be expected to carry the main bulk of the squad.

Not only are the basketball specilists looking forward to the coming season but the football regulars like Ernie Bayer, Bill McQueen, and Ronald Brashear also plan to participate.

Cameron B-Team Trips A&M, 20 - 8

The Cameron Yoemen B squad took their first football win of the year Thursday night defeating A & M Consolidated by a 20 - 8 margin.

The Yoemen were led by backs Amos Doskocil and Edwin Michalka. The defensive leaders were Jackie Raney and Bobby Jones.

Jimmy Woodum called the game at quarterback. Behind by a 6 - 8 score at the half Cameron gained ground in the second half on a 20-yard touchdown run by Doskocil and a 35-yard dash by Michalka.

Doskocil scored Cameron's first TD early in the game. Woodum attempted one pass that went complete for 5 yards. Two penalties went to the Yoemen for 30 yards.

C. Wallace Named Pepsquad Sweetheart

At the Cameron C team game with Hearne Tuesday night, Craig Wallace was named "Pepsquad Sweetheart" for 1959. He was elected to this honored position by the 20 members of the pepsquad and the four C team cheerleaders. He was elected on the basis of citizenship, friendliness and athletic ability.

At the halftime ceremony he was escorted to the center of the field by the four cheerleaders, Marcia Schiller, Jolene Wied, Barbara Woodum and Jane Monroe, and was presented a football enscribed with "Pepsquad Sweetheart - Craig Wallace - 1959".

Deer - Duck Season Set To Begin Soon

AUSTIN — Two major hunting seasons will get under way in Texas within the next ten days, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The duck hunting season will open noon, November 13. The bag limit will be 4 ducks daily, but not more than one can be a canvasback or redhead. The duck inventory in Texas at the present time is very good, according to waterfowl biologists, who have been making surveys throughout the State. Many of the ducks are young ones, however, indicating the late hatch in the nesting grounds.

Goose season already is underway, having opened at sunrise, October 26. The duck season will end Janurary 1, and the goose season will end Janurary 8.

Water fowl hunters are required to have a $3.00 federal duck stamp which can be bought at the Post Office.

The white - tailed deer season will open in most counties in Texas November 16. The mule deer season will open December 1 west of the Pecos. There will be deer seasons in many other counties in Texas under regulatory control. It is advised that you check with your local game warden on these areas.

The basic bag limit is on two bucks. However, doe shooting will be permitted in a number of Texas counties again this year, which will permit hunters to take either bucks or doe.

Mrs. M. A. Hearne has returned from a three weeks visit in California visiting her oldest son Jimmy Hearne and wife and other places. She reports a delightful trip.

Yoemen To Meet Hearne Eagles In Final Game

By Robert Mann

The Cameron Yoemen had an open date last week, the first and last of the year before playing the final season game with Hearne Friday night at Yoe Field.

It will be an 18AA district game with Hearne, defeated last year by Cameron.

With eight losses and one win behind them, the Yoemen have a total of 304 points scored against them and have tallied 50 points against their opponents.

Here's a quick season rehash:

The Yoemen dropped their first contest to the Trojans of West by a 34-0 score.

The next week they met Rockdale at home and were topped 21-0. In 1958 the Tigers lost to Cameron 6-0.

Brenham had a blood-chilling effect on Cameron though YHS scored their first TD. The final score was 50-6.

The Cameron-Mexia battle was uplifting scorewise as the Yoemen racked up two TD's in a 27-12 loss. But Taylor punished the Yoemen on their homefield the following week with a 53-0 victory.

Bellville led all the way and ended up with a 40-6 win. Anticipated as the "toughest of them all," the Belton battle went no worse as the Yoemen played better ball and went down, 45-'3.

In an odds-on game Rosebud tilted Cameron 26-0 before Cameron's first win of the year over Rogers, 13-8.

18 AA Teams Play In Hearne, Rosebud As Yoemen Rest

Last week two 18AA district tilts were played in Hearn and Rosebud. Hearne's hometown team tasted victory while Belton was upsetting Rosebud's Panthers 52 - 24. The Hearne-Rogers score was 22-0.

Belton's scoring was wide and scattered. They ambled 274 yards rushing and gained 188 passing in completing 9 out of 17.

Rosebud held their own by garnering 124 yards rushing and 104 passing. They completed 7 out of 18.

Hearne dropped Rogers 22-0 setting the latter in the district cellar.

Hearne was in the lead after the first half 14-0, following a 10-yard touchdown run and a 60-yard run. The PAT attempt was succesful following the first TD.

A pass was intercepted in the final stanza on the 40 and ran back the remaining 60 yards for Hearne's final touchdown.

Coach Announces 26-Game Series

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR CAR OWNERS

Here now is the Automobile Insurance Plan that you have asked for! On January 1, 1960, the TEXAS SAFE DRIVER INSURANCE PLAN will become effective. Under this Plan, Auto Insurance will be much, much lower for those who have had no accidents or Moving Traffic Violations. Drivers with accident and/or traffic violations will be penalized and their insurance premiums will be higher.

* * * * *

All privately owned autos MUST be written with a completed, signed Auto Insurance application. THE GEORGE CHILDRESS AGENCY is anxious to assist you with obtaining your insurance at the proper premium. We have the necessary forms now.

* * * * *

YOU can get Personal Service from the GEORGE CHILDRESS AGENCY. Also, you will be able to enjoy the Peace of Mind of having your insurance written in the HARTFORD, AETNA CASCALTY AND SURETY or REPUBLIC INSURANCE COMPANIES. You do not have to accept "Mail Order", "Department Store" or "Cut Rate" insurance companies under the TEXAS SAFE DRIVERS INSURANCE PLAN. At the George Childress Agency, there are no fees for joining. You can select the Insurance Protection that you want.

You can arrange monthly payments, of course, at GEORGE CHILDRESS. Top Service is always available.
